UNITED OFFICE AND PROFESSIONAL WORKERS OF AMERICA (UOPWA)

The "CIO News" issue of February 20, 1950, on page six, column one, contained an article reflecting that the CIO Executive Board had voted to expel the UOPWA from the CIO effective March 1, 1950. The board acted, according to the article, on a report filed by the trial committee appointed to hear the charges against the UOPWA. The committee found "the policies and activities of the UOPWA followed and continue to follow exactly, without deviation, the program of the CP.....Never in the history of the UOPWA has any policy ever been adopted which in any way runs counter to the policies of the CP, or to the interests of the Soviet Union, as those interests are reflected in the program of the CP".

The "Union Voice", the official organ of the Distributive Processing and Office Workers of America (DPOWA), in its issue of October 22, 1950, reflects that the UOPWA, the Distributive Workers Union, and the Food, Tobacco, Agricultural and Allied Workers of America merged on October 7, 1950, to form the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America.

WORKERS DEFENSE LEAGUE

The House Committee on Un-American Propaganda Activities, in its 1938 report, page 678, reported that "Just as the Communist Party has its defense movement, the International Labor Defense, so has the Socialist Party the Workers Defense League. The latter organization was formed in May, 1936, by leading members of the Socialist Party. The Executive Committee of the League is....composed of Socialists and extreme left wingers."

The "Daily Worker", issue of December 16, 1944, contained an article by DOROTHY LOEB, in which it was stated that "the League, which is solidly controlled by Trotskyites, NORMAN THOMAS Socialists, and Social Democrats, has long since established its direction. This can be summed up in the simple reminder that this is the organization that is leading a fight in behalf of the eighteen Minneapolis Trotskyites jailed under Federal conviction for sedition."

[redacted] advised that Mr. LLOYD GARRISON, a partner in the firm, is extremely busy at the present time because of his duties as President of the New York City Board of Education and would not be available for interview until sometime in March, 1967.

On January 5, 1967, [redacted] Engineering Attorney, advised that the applicant worked under his direct supervision for about a year and a half in the Litigation Division of the firm. He stated that the applicant's performance was satisfactory but that her interests were in the sociology field rather than in litigation matters. He felt that she was not well suited to the give and take necessary in the rather harsh and practical field of litigation. He advised that she was a mature woman who had her own ideas on the pursuits that interested her. [redacted]

[redacted] stated that the applicant's moral and personal habits left nothing to be desired and that she appeared to be emotionally and mentally stable. He advised that he had no reason to question her loyalty to the United States. In this connection, he advised that after leaving the firm she went to Ghana where she taught in a law school. Upon her return from Ghana the applicant stated that she had tried to explain to her students some of the principles of democracy, but she had found that the political atmosphere in Ghana was very oppressive. She also noted that after some of her comments about democracy she observed government intelligence agents attending her classes.

[redacted] advised that he was not acquainted with the applicant's work for the Democratic Committee of New York County in connection with the 1956 Presidential election, however, he knows that the applicant has been closely associated with Mr. LLOYD GARRISON. He advised further that he has no knowledge of the applicant's activities since her return from Ghana and he has no personal knowledge of the applicant's family. He recommended her for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] formerly employed by his firm and now working for Rugoff Theatres, New York City, was a close associate of the applicant's during her tenure with the firm.

DETAILS:

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

[redacted] on January 10, 1967, furnished the following information at [redacted] Salt Lake City, Utah:

[redacted] is known professionally as [redacted]. She is [redacted] of Harper and Row, New York City, New York, and can be reached at all times through that company.

Some time in the early 1950's, while [redacted] with Harper and Row, this company decided to publish a book being written by the Applicant. [redacted] was assigned to work with Applicant in the preparation and editing of this book, which was later issued under the title of "Proud Shoes." As a result of this association, [redacted] and Applicant became close acquaintances and have been in rather regular association since that time.

The book "Proud Shoes" was based on Applicant's analysis of her personal background and origins. The Applicant comes from a family of educated Negroes, with a rather strong infusion of southern white aristocratic blood. Some of the members of her family have made the decision to pass as Caucasians and have been successful in doing this. It was this background which provided the basis for the book being written by the Applicant at the time and caused during her lifetime some conflicts in the personality of the Applicant, which Applicant has finally been successful in resolving by deciding that although she has roots in Africa, her cultural heritage and future are clearly with the West.

[redacted] in her association with the Applicant, at no time became seriously involved in the political thinking of the Applicant. The cultural and ethnical influences were the paramount issues under consideration.

The book was reasonably successful and resulted in much satisfaction to the Applicant and to [redacted]. Sometime thereafter, on the recommendation of [redacted] Applicant was accepted on a scholarship basis for a term at the McDowell Colony, Peterborough, New Hampshire. She was the first Negro ever accepted at this Colony and was accepted only on the personal guarantee of [redacted]. This is a colony principally for writers and seeks to provide ideal surroundings for the activities of literary people. Since that time the Applicant has on a few occasions returned to that colony for a period of time.

b7C

Applicant by training is a lawyer. She also has a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Law and in June, 1965, was awarded a Doctor's degree in the Science of Law by Yale University. [redacted] was present at the commencement exercises.

Applicant has during her entire life been interested in upgrading the status of the Negro in the United States and elsewhere. As a result of this, she has told [redacted] that she came in contact with people who later turned out to be those who had political interests rather than Negro interests at heart. Because of this, she broke away from numerous groups who claimed to be seeking benefits for the Negro but in the opinion of Applicant were not. [redacted] does not recall the names of these groups but is of the opinion that in the civil rights movement today the Applicant would be found with the moderate tendencies and would be opposed to those who advocated Black Power and civil disobedience.

As a result of Applicant's background, she has gradually matured. Today she can view the Negro situation with hope and without bitterness.

Sometime prior to the writing of "Proud Shoes" the Applicant practiced law but was apparently not financially very successful. Subsequent to the writing of the book, LLOYD GARRISON, a prominent New York Attorney, became interested in the Applicant, and she joined the firm in which GARRISON was a partner. This was the same firm to which ADLAI STEVENSON was attached. Partly through GARRISON's influence she applied for and was accented as an instructor at the University of Ghana. [] is not certain whether Applicant was employed by the university or went there under some United States aid program. Applicant viewed this as an opportunity to examine her African roots but quickly became disillusioned with NKRUMAH. Applicant found that she was required to teach law at the university without any comment or interpretation. She found that the only Negroes who treated her with respect were those from the United States and that the Ghanaians did not want her there. She became disillusioned with the fact that Ghana was a complete dictatorship, with a total lack of freedom.

Either during the time that Applicant was in Ghana or shortly thereafter she coauthored a book with a man from England which pertained to constitutional law of Ghana. [] does not know the name of this book nor the name of the coauthor. delete

On one occasion during her stay in Ghana she was returned to the United States. Enroute her plane landed at an airport in one of the European countries, believed to have been Spain. Afterward, in telling [] of her experience at this airport, she stated that for the first time she realized she really belonged to the "pink and white culture" and not to the black culture of Africa. Since returning to the United States from Ghana, she has been invited on one or two occasions to make a tour of Africa, but because of her severe disillusionment with Ghana, she has decided not to make this tour. The purpose of the tour would have been to write a book on her impressions. The Applicant was afraid she could not be sympathetic to the plight of the Negroes in Africa because of her experience in Ghana.

It is [] understanding that Applicant did, however, write a small book or booklet for the United States Information Service after returning from Ghana. [] has not seen this book, nor does she know its name.

[redacted] states that on the basis of the information furnished by her and her experiences with the Applicant, she considers that Applicant is completely loyal to the United States and of good character and associations. She has never, however, discussed political matters with Applicant, except as these were incidental to other conversations.

WFO files reflect that on 10/12/43, a report was submitted to the Bureau by this office captioned "RACIAL CONDITIONS IN WASHINGTON, D. C., IS - C, WFO file 100-13892." Included in this report the following information was set forth regarding the Minorities Workshop:

This group was started in Washington, D. C. in October, 1942, in order to organize a new group to work particularly for the interest of the Negro people and with regard to minority problems. The original group forming the Minorities Workshop were more socialist in belief rather than communist and communists have never been active in connection with this organization.

The membership of the Minorities Workshop has always been rather loose with the result that representation at meetings has varied from 15 and 20 persons up to 125 or more. The organization has been consistently interracial in character with approximately 75 per cent being Negroes and the remainder being white people. It has attracted both male and female followers in approximately equal proportions. As previously indicated, most of its followers have been members of the Socialist Party or members of other organizations not particularly favorable to Communism. Among the leaders of this group was PAULI MURRAY.

The Minorities Workshop does not appear on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations and does not appear in the House Committee on Un-American Activities Publication Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications. Information contained in WFO files regarding the Minorities Workshop does not seem of sufficient significance to warrant this information being reported and the Results Of Investigation in this matter. UACB, the above material is being set forth administratively.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] b7C

EMPLOYMENT

On January 3 and 5, 1967, [redacted] Carolina Times Publishing Company, Durham, North Carolina, advised he no longer has the personnel records reflecting applicant's employment, but he does recall she was employed for several months about 1927. Her principal work was of a bookkeeping and stenographic nature but she also did some writing for the newspaper. She was extremely resourceful, highly intelligent, and possessed tremendous ability for newspaper work. [redacted] described her as having had more potential than any employee he had ever had.

[redacted] has had no association with applicant since about 1927. At that time her character was above reproach, and he pointed out that she possessed great honesty and integrity. She had a tendency to associate with the "liberal element", none of which [redacted] could identify. [redacted] suspected some of these persons might have communistic sympathies, and he recalls he once cautioned applicant about such associations and she explained she was only attempting to learn about communism. [redacted] believes she was truthful in this explanation and pointed out that at no time did she ever express any sympathy for communism. Based on his brief association, [redacted] is of the opinion she is a loyal, American citizen and recommends her for a position of trust with the United States Government.

CREDIT AND IDENTIFICATION

On January 3, 1967, [redacted] Identification Bureau, Police Department, and [redacted] Credit Bureau, both Durham, North Carolina, advised their respective records reflected no record on the following names:

CE 140-1433

ANNA PAULINE MURRAY
AGNES PAULINE MURRAY
ANNA PAULINE WYNN
Mrs. WILLIAM RAY WYNN
Mrs. PAULINE FITZGERALD DAME
WILLIAM H. MURRAY
AGNES FITZGERALD MURRAY

NEIGHBORHOOD

On January 3, 1967, [redacted]
[redacted] (formerly [redacted], Durham, North Carolina, advised she has been living in the area since 1931. She recalls that Mrs. PAULINE DAME and her sister formerly lived at 906 Carroll. Mrs. DAME was a school teacher and aunt of the applicant. She enjoyed an excellent reputation and was respected by all the neighbors.

[redacted] does not remember the applicant very well and only recalls that she "seemed to come and go" from Mrs. DAME's residence, staying there only for short periods of time. However, she knows of nothing derogatory regarding applicant or her relatives. Mrs. DAME left Durham about fifteen years ago and is now deceased.

Efforts to locate anyone else in the area who was acquainted with the applicant met with negative results.
